READMISSION PREVENTION
Health ConNEXTion is a program that provides home visits to patients with congestive heart failure, pneumonia and COPD who frequently visit the hospital. The program helps reduce hospital readmissions by following up with patients after their discharge to provide education, reconcile medications, conduct safety assessments and connect patients to care providers.

Wayne Community College PARTNERSHIP AWARD
The American Association of Community Colleges awarded Wayne UNC Health Care the Outstanding College/Corporate Partnership Award for its strategic partnership with Wayne Community College. Working together, the two organizations are closing local gaps in education and training and bringing talented health care professionals to the community.
